Girls are rejected by sisters' school

A TRIO of mums have seen their children rejected by a Haverhill school – despite living inside the catchment area.

Kellie Nunn, Sophie Gibson and Kystal Furner were told their younger daughters were ineligible to start at Burton End Primary School in September even though their older children are currently students.

Education bosses at Suffolk County Council said the classes were full and that the dividing line for inclusion was now drawn through and not around their homes.

Mother of four Kellie, of Allington Walk, will now be forced to "be in three different places at the same time" when she walks daughters, Keeleigh, 10, and Shannon, 6, to Burton End, son Charlie, 2, to Busy Bees Pre-School and Demi, 4, potentially to Place Farm.

The volunteer care worker says it will mean Demi will miss an hour of school each day as she and her husband Ian, a self-employed courier, cannot afford to pay for both breakfast and after-school clubs, totalling £70 a week.

She said: "I attended the council's appeal hearing and I was told that the line was a 'bit thick' that outlines the catchments area.

"By sending my daughter to another school she would have to miss an hour a day of school, which obviously the panel found acceptable but I don't – this is my children's education being affected here and I find it disgusting how Suffolk County Council can allow this to happen."

Now Kellie is faced with the dilemma of whether to fight for her daughter's right to be educated at Burton End or try to enrol her at Place Farm before it is too late.

She added: "My other daughters go there, I don't understand why they are in the right area, but suddenly my youngest daughter is not – it's not like we have moved house.

"I have no idea what will happen in September."

A spokeswoman for Suffolk County Council said: "When families live outside of catchment area but have older siblings in the school we will try to accommodate them. However, due to the particularly large school admissions year group for this year across the whole of Suffolk, it has not been possible to do this.

"We also have to work within the law regarding class sizes. The infant class size law prevents any primary school class having any more than 30 children. In this particular case Burton End School had reached its capacity.

"We understand that it is not ideal to have children from the same family attending different schools, however we must abide by the legal requirements for class sizes."

Mums stunned by decision

Merger sees loss of CAB

HAVERHILL has lost one of its own public services after it merged with those in surrounding towns. The Citizens Advice Bureau will now be part of the Suffolk West Citizens Advice Bureau after it was joined by bodies in Bury St Edmunds, Mildenhall and Brandon.

Boss calls for players

MORE players are needed by a youth football team which has a new manager. David Curtis has taken over the Steeple Bumpstead Dynamos Under-11s' team and is hoping to get some new players on board before the start of the season in September. Children need to be up to Year 5 to play. Anyone who is interested should call (01440) 703752 or email DACIDC@AOL.COM.

Plans bid for 13 homes

PLANS to demolish four existing homes and build 13 new ones on the land have been received by planners. Havebury Housing has applied to St Edmundsbury Borough Council for consent to develop the land at Greenwood Close and Hazel Close, Haverhill.

Hospice in pole position for charity race funds

Saturday saw the St Nicholas Hospice Care Towergate Accumulator Challenge reach top gear as Haverhill's Cineworld transformed its foyer with a Disney's Cars 2 theme and asked filmgoers to try their hands at thrilling Scalextric racing – for 50p a go.

The event raised £37 for the charity and formed part of its efforts for the challenge, in which businesses have three months to turn a £50 stake into as much money for the hospice as possible.

The cinema bought the Cars-themed Scalextric set – which is now being raffled off for the cause – with part of its £50.

John Scott, the cinema's general manager, said: "Having the Scalextric racing in the foyer made for a very fun and lively day, and it attracted quite a few interested children who took part.

"Raising £37 was quite good when you consider we were only charging 50p a go."

Next month, several members of staff will be going through the pain barrier to raise more cash when they have their legs waxed on August 22.

Abby Mayes, hospice corporate fundraiser, said: "The Cineworld team has done well to think of two such diverse fundraising events for the Accumulator Challenge and we are grateful for their efforts.

"I'm glad the Scalextric racing was a success – but I'm even more eager to witness the sponsored leg wax."

Stroke experts online

STROKE patients can now access lifesaving drugs 24 hours a day following the introduction of technology which lets specialist doctors assess their condition remotely.

The telemedicine equipment gives West Suffolk Hospital staff a computer link to experts, so that patients who have a stroke outside working hours can be assessed for their suitability for the clot-busting drugs.

Using a camera and high-spec laptop, the on-call doctor will observe the patient, talk to hospital staff and view brain scans before giving advice.

The technology has been introduced to increase the number of patients able to receive thrombolysis, which saves lives and minimises disability. The drug must usually be given within four-and-a-half hours of the patient first noticing their symptoms to be effective.

Gwen Nuttall, executive chief operating officer, said: "As well as saving lives, the new service will help prevent disabilities by making sure everyone who suffers a stroke can rapidly access the best possible treatment to meet their needs."

Fears voiced over spill plant safety

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

SAFETY fears have been raised about a chemical plant which one resident fears could 'take out half of Haverhill' if a major incident occurred there.

Last week, hundreds of residents were warned to stay in their homes after a chemical spillage at the International Flavours and Fragrances (IFF) site in Duddery Hill, Haverhill.

Mick Driver, who is chairman of the Haverhill Show Committee, questions what would have happened if the recent spillage had been more serious and whether adequate safety plans exist.

He said: "My family have lived in Duddery Hill for more than 50 years, when Haverhill was just a High Street with a dozen or so roads leading off, way before any of the large housing estates were built.

Flashback: an ambulance at the scene of last week's spill.

"It has always been said that if IFF 'went up in smoke' it would take out half of Haverhill. What is really worrying is that on the day, the police and local residents did not really know what to do.

"I spoke to a police officer who was knocking on doors in Duddery Hill, warning people to stay indoors and keep doors and windows shut, but at the same time children and adults were still walking.

"It was not until quite a few hours later that the police made a half-hearted attempt to seal the area off, keeping people away.

"In my opinion, if this incident had been more serious it could have been deadly, as it appears there is not an appropriate safety plan, including an evacuation procedure to put in place if needed."

On July 18, aluminium chloride spilled out of a tanker and reacted with wind and rain to create toxic fumes. Residents across the Chalkstone estate, as well as Roman Way and the Wilsey estate, and residents were advised to stay indoors with windows and doors shut throughout the day.

Firemen wearing protective suits and using breathing apparatus dealt with the spillage of the chemical, which can irritate the respiratory system, eyes and skin.

A spokesman for Suffolk Police said the incident was a fire service-led operation and their officers had implemented the systems which were in place.

A spokesman for Suffolk County Council said an exclusion zone was put in place but lifted by late afternoon.

The spokesman said: "The incident was dealt with by Suffolk Fire and Rescue Service firefighters, supporting the IFF firefighters and other agencies on the scene.

"As with all incidents, the SFRS will carry out a full debrief involving all the agencies at the scene, to identify lessons that can be learnt."

No-one from IFF was available to comment.

Helicopters are stolen

FOUR model helicopters were among items taken from a caravan broken into on a driveway.
The theft happened in Minerva Close, Haverhill, between 11.30pm on Thursday, July 21 and 7.30am last Friday.
Offenders broke into a Kia Sorrento on a driveway by smashing a window, and broke into a caravan by forcing the lock. Tools, cash and a satellite navigation system were also stolen.
Calls in relation to the incident should be made to Sgt Sarah Bartley at the Haverhill Safer Neighbourhood Team on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Thieves break into Renault

THIEVES broke into a car overnight by smashing a window.
They struck in Bath Court, Haverhill, between 8.30pm on Wednesday, July 20 and 6.30am the following day.
As well as cash, a palmtop computer used as a satellite navigation system and a taxi booking organiser were taken from the white Renault Laguna in a car park. Anyone with information should call PC Robert Bunton at Haverhill Police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Park plan to get kids active

EAST Town Park is to host summer activities to get children interested in their environment.
The park in Coupals Road, Haverhill, is putting on classes to teach youngsters how to fish. The free 2pm sessions on Tuesday, August 2, and Thursday, August 11, are open to 7 to 14-year-olds.
And on Friday August 5, the park hosts a "creatures of the night" event from 8.30pm, allowing the whole family to search for moths and bats. Entry for adults is £2.50 and free for children.
To book places, phone (01440) 710745.

Astra comes under attack

DAMAGE was caused to a car during a break-in.
Between 11.30pm on Sunday and 10.55am on Monday, someone attempted to break into a Vauxhall Astra parked in Burton End, Haverhill, damaging the locking mechanism. The rear spoiler was also broken into pieces and the plastic windscreen wiper casing was broken.
Call Haverhill police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555.111.

'Let's call in the Queen of Shops'

QUEEN of Shops Mary Portas is to be be invited to give her forthright views on Haverhill's High Street.

The television troubleshooter will be asked to cast her critical eye over the High Street in Haverhill to see what can be done to attract shoppers and encourage new shops to open.

Members of St Edmundsbury Borough Council's cabinet have agreed to issue the invitation as part of a £10,000 Haverhill Shopper Survey project, which could attract another £9,000 in match funding from Kent Business School.

A project manager will be appointed and work with a student from Kent Business School, who will be commissioned to undertake a professionally designed and conducted survey in Haverhill town centre.

The council's Haverhill area working party has already agreed to accept the offer from the school for a student placement. Councillors were told that that the potential of the project has now grown, with the Association of Town Centre Managers writing to express a keen interest in its outcome and the Government announcing its intention to commission Mary Portas to undertake a review of Britain's high streets.

With several more shops in Haverhill High Street due to close, it was felt the project was valid – but insufficient borough council staff time was available to dedicate to it.

"The potential for this project to become nationally recognised suggests that what is needed is a dedicated project manager to ensure that the project really makes a difference to Haverhill Town Centre," the report to the cabinet said.

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

The council had previously allocated £25,000 funding towards the Haverhill Shop Front Grant Scheme from its Local Authority Business Growth Incentive (LABGI) budget allocation. The funding had not been widely accessed, so £10,000 would be re-allocated to Phase 1 of the Haverhill Shoppers Project. An application to Kent Business School's Innovation Fund would be submitted to match-fund this amount, potentially providing an overall budget of £20,000 for Phase 1.

"The working party had noted the principal aim of the project was to translate the knowledge held by large national multiple retailers such as Tesco to the smaller independent traders," the report said.

The council's economic development manager, in consultation with the chairman and vice-chairman of the Haverhill Area Working Party, will produce and finalise the terms of reference for the project.

Retail expert Portas has featured on BBC TV in Mary Queen of Shops, in which she tried to turn around struggling fashion boutiques. She has also writes a weekly column for the Daily Telegraph magazine.

Troubleshooter: could Mary Portas bring her expertise to bear on Haverhill's shops?

Council pondering buying a shop – to rent out at low rate

EMPTY shop premises could be bought by Haverhill Town Council and offered for rent at reduced rates to encourage new businesses to start up.

Councillors have agreed to explore the move as part of a strategic plan of action for the next four years. Town clerk Gordon Mussett, right, said the idea was to stimulate new business in premises such as the empty shop next to its High Street base in the Arts Centre.

He said: "High rents are a factor in encouraging new businesses and keeping existing ones. One of the options is that we actually buy a property and bring the rent down to encourage businesses to come into the town. The flats and shops near the centre would cost £600,000 to £700,000 and are up for lease for about £35,000.

"If we borrowed £700,000 over 20 years, the repayments would be exactly covered by the rent from the shop. If we borrowed it over 40 years the repayments would be considerably reduced and we could cut the rent by half to £18,000. People might feel more encouraged to open a business at the lower rent.

"With interest rates at one per cent it would be beneficial to the town centre and encourage new business. Newmarket Town Council is borrowing £1 million to renovate its memorial hall."

Town councillors agreed to defer until their next meeting the final details of the 10-point plan of actions they aim to take over the next four years, after which time elections will be held again.

Other plans include the formation of a youth council, promoting the town, encouraging the development of the Gurteens site, keeping Place Court under council control and campaigning for restoration of 24-hour manning of Haverhill fire Station.

Three foiled during store break-in bid

THREE men were seen attempting to break into a convenience store – but they left when the alarm sounded.

The incident happened in Primrose Hill, Haverhill between 5.10am and 5.20am on Sunday. The three tried to break in by forcing a shutter.

The owner of the store turned off the alarm and found one of the men tampering with the shutter. The man walked off towards Cleves Road.

The first man is described as white, in his late teens and wearing a brown t-shirt with a white stripe at the bottom. The second man is described as white, in his late teens, wearing a beige t-shirt and trousers, and carrying a small black rucksack. The third man is described as white, in his late teens and wearing a grey hooded top and jogging bottoms.

Calls in relation to the incident should be made to Haverhill Police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Parklife proves a winner as region lands top awards

PARKS in a district have won a hat-trick of green flag awards – and visitors can vote for their favourite park to win a further title.

East Town Park in Haverhill and the Abbey Gardens and Nowton Park in Bury St Edmunds have won coveted green flags, confirming that they are among best in the country.

The Green Flag Award is a sign to visitors that the park is well-maintained and well-managed, with excellent facilities. All three parks have previously won green flags, but have to re-apply every year to prove that their standards are being continuously improved.

All award-winning sites now have the chance to receive a further award from the Green Flag Plus Partnership, the People's Choice Award. This award is voted for by the public, so to see your local park receive a national accolade as the people's choice, register your vote on: www.greenflagaward.org.uk.

The Abbey Gardens has recently seen the opening of an innovative new play area which thousands of children are enjoying, while the range of events and activities at East Town Park continues to increase.

And the foundations for a new visitor centre at Nowton Park have been completed, ready for the new building to arise over the coming months.

Cllr Sara Mildmay-White, St Edmundsbury Borough Council cabinet member responsible for culture and sport, said: "I am delighted that these green flags have been awarded. The council recognises the value of open spaces and we continue to invest in them. They are free at point of use and attract hundreds of thousands of visitors each year. The awards confirm our commitment to the well-being of the borough."

Phil Barton, Green Flag Plus Partnership chairman said: "I would like to congratulate this year's winners, who have worked hard throughout the year to keep their parks and green spaces at a high standard and ensure they are pleasant and enjoyable spaces for the whole community.

"The Green Flag Award Scheme, and its growth, is essential in driving up the standards of our parks and green spaces.

"Access to quality green space is something we all desire and the scheme plays a key role in providing it. In these challenging financial times it is heartening that the number of Green Flag Awards continue to grow."

Welcome to upside-down world of parkour

URBAN sports fans in Haverhill were treated to a special display of the sport of parkour at the weekend.

Haverhill Leisure Centre hosted its own London 2012 Open Weekend event on Saturday, offering gymnastics sessions and a parkour demonstration outside on the town's new plaza.

As well as watching the sport, also known as free running, youngsters were also able to give it a go in a safe environment thanks to Jump London, a project based in the capital designed to support the safe teaching and learning of parkour.

Sports development officer Amelia Epton said: "This was a great way for people in Haverhill to try parkour and come along to support a local club which is hoping to train the Olympic gymnasts of the future."

Athletic: a free running demonstration got people in Haverhill's plaza fired up about the sport.

What if spill had been more serious?

Sir, what would have happened if the recent chemical spillage at the IFF factory in Duddery Hill, Haverhill, had been more serious?

My family have lived in Duddery Hill for over 50 years, when Haverhill was just the High Street with a dozen or so roads leading off, way before any of the large housing estates were built.

It has always been said that if IFF 'went up in smoke' it would take out half of Haverhill.

What is really worrying is that on the said day the police and local residents did not really know what to do. I spoke to a police officer who was knocking on doors in Duddery Hill, warning people to say indoors and keep doors and windows shut, but at the same time children and adults were still walking by.

It was not until quite a few hours later that the police made a half hearted attempt to seal the area off, keeping people away.

In my opinion, if this incident had been more serious it could have been deadly, as it appears there is not an appropriate safety plan, including an evacuation procedure to put in place in needed.

I await other readers' comments.

Last week's Memories photograph, from our archives, was taken at a Haverhill fun day in May 1992.
Leanne Caustion emailed in to say: "One of the girls in the majorette picture is myself and one of the other girls is my friend. The picture was taken when we were with New Image Majorettes. We now train our own troupe together in town, the Fire & Ice Majorettes. Our names are Leanne Causton and Louise Thacker and the other girls in the picture are Kelly, Charlene and Lisa."

PASTORS ON PATROL: A group of Christians are set to wander Haverhill's streets on Friday evenings to "provide a caring presence to people".

Haverhill Town Pastors are holding their first Commissioning Service tomorrow from 7pm at the Old Independent Church in the town's Hamlet Road.

And from a week later, pairs of pastors will be on duty in the town centre, supported by a dedicated prayer team, who will operate both from the church and from their homes around the town.

The scheme already exists in other Suffolk towns including Bury St Edmunds and Sudbury.

Funding has been secured for the service from the town council, county councillors, the police authority and the Suffolk Foundation, as well as from other churches in the area.

Town pastors will be easily spotted in high-visibility jackets and hats.

ON TARGET FOR HOSPICE: A knockout darts match will raise funds for a hospice.

Players will compete in 501 competitions for the best of five legs at the Haverhill Snooker and Bowl on Sunday, August 21.

A raffle and collections will also take place in aid of St Nicholas in Bury St Edmunds, which cares for people suffering from terminal illnesses.

Singles are £5 to enter and £3 for random pairs and the closing date for entry is Monday, August 15.

Registration on the day will start at 10.30am and the competition will begin at 11.30am.

For more information and to enter, phone(01440) 707774.

KIDS IN WONDERLAND: The Mad Hatter, March Hare and Cheshire Cat staged a surprise performance of Alice in Wonderland for the parents of nursery children.

Dressed as the characters from Lewis Carroll's famous 1865 novel, nearly 20 pupils from Happy Faces Pre-School in Haverhill celebrated the end of term before graduating to primary school.

The parents were treated to the play before the students, in red gowns and mortar boards, were handed their 'diploma' by town councillor Roger Andre, who said the performance was "absolutely brilliant".

Elaine Hatfield, manager at Happy Faces in Colne Valley Road, said: "It was fantastic and such a good surprise for the parents.

"We felt that, because it had been an outstanding year, we really wanted to give something back to them to thank them for their support."

A few spaces are still left for September's new term at Happy Faces. For more information, phone (01440) 762515.

LIFE OF LEISURE: Meeting meerkats, water fights and a talent contest are on offer at Haverhill Leisure Centre to help keep youngsters amused this summer.

For the under-8s there will be craft sessions, trampolining, teddy bears picnics, dance mats, a beach party, treasure hunts, family quizzes, and karaoke sessions.

For 8 – 12 year olds the School's Out Holiday Camps will be running activities including athletics, cycling, swimming, dodge ball and football. Kid City's Got Talent for 5- to 12-year-olds has auditions from 2pm to 3.30pm on August 3, 9 and 24.

Free fun on offer for kids

FREE family fun is on offer at an annual event aimed at children.

A day of high-quality entertainment is in store at the third Haverhill Children's Festival taking place on the Recreation Ground from 10am to 4pm on Wednesday, August 10.

The busy programme takes place in marquees, an arena and across the Recreation Ground.

Among the entertainers will be musicians, magicians, monsters and acrobats, as well as workshops for African drumming, street dancing or cheerleading. More hands-on fun comes with art and craft activities, model making, 'tattoos' and graffiti. And to burn off any excess energy there is a bouncy castle, giant slide, sports with Abbeycroft Leisure and circus skills.

Cllr Sara Mildmay-White, St Edmundsbury's cabinet member for culture and sport, said: "The Haverhill Children's Festival has built a great reputation for inspirational entertainment and the programme this year is the strongest yet.

"In fact, the fun continues with Wicked Wednesdays throughout the summer. We are looking forward to delighting families and welcoming them back for more."

Wicked Wednesdays include on August 17, from 11am to 3pm, a Picnic in the Park at East Town Park, in partnership with Haverhill Town Council; on August 24 from 11am to 3pm an ice rink at the Plaza, Ehringshausen Way; and on August 31 from 11am to 3pm, a climbing wall at Haverhill Rovers Football Club in Chalkstone Way.

For full details, go to www.stedmundsbury.gov.uk/sebc/play/childrensfestival.cfm.

Classic family show comes to East Town Park

RATTY, Mole and Toad will be paying a visit to a Haverhill park for an outdoor show.

Haverhill Town Council and Cambridge Touring Theatre present a fun family show at East Town Park, Haverhill on Sunday, August 7, with all-time favourite, The Wind in the Willows.

Past performances by Cambridge Touring Theatre have been celebrated for fast and funny productions such as Alice in Wonderland, Robin Hood and The Sword in the Stone.

Tickets to see Ratty, Mole and Toad messing about on the river can be booked by calling Haverhill Arts Centre Box Office on (01440) 714140. The show starts at 5pm and tickets are £8 and £6, with family tickets £24.

Cambridge Touring Theatre is also running a pre-performance workshop. Children aged between 5 and 11 can join the actors for some fun involving acting and music at 3.30pm. Tickets are £2.50.

Growing cash for causes

Thank you: Barbara Waldron, chairman of Hundon Gardening Club, hands over the money to Ian Norris, hospice community fundraiser, and Jayne Tabram, Hundron Youth Club leader. Picture: CP

VILLAGERS opened up their gardens and helped raise buckets of cash for two good causes.

St Nicholas Hospice Care received £500 and Hundon Youth Club £160 after an Open Gardens event in Hundon.

Barbara Waldron, chairwoman of Hundon Gardening Club, said: "One of our members – the treasurer – was treated by the community hospice team at the end of last year and they were very good to him.

"That was why we decided to donated funds to the hospice as well as to the youth club."

The saw 16 gardens open their gates in warm sunshine with more than 150 people attending.

Visitors were also able to wander around the primary school allotment and two wild space areas which have been planted with trees by local children.

Parking fees for disabled a step closer

BLUE badge-holders are facing the increased likelihood that they will have to pay for parking in borough-owned car parks.

A report is due to be published which will suggest disabled drivers in Haverhill and St Edmundsbury must pay for additional spaces close to shops and important services – and will incur charges if they do not cough up.

With a growing number of disabled customers, and a decreasing availability of parking spaces for them, St Edmundsbury Borough Council says it has been forced to consider introducing costs for badge-holders.

Members of the council were told that an assumption was made that disability equates to low income but this was not necessarily true, and that other low-income groups were not extended the same concession.

But the proposal has angered disabled rights campaigners, members of the public and Haverhill town councillors, who feel uneasy about the idea.

Maureen Byrne, Haverhill's mayor, said she had "mixed feelings" about the situation, but was ultimately against the plans. She said: "I am very concerned with the safety of the blue badge-holders, who will be left to search for alternative methods to park for free.

"The most vulnerable may park where they should not park, which is extremely dangerous, especially if these are on roads."

However, she admitted that the final decision was down to the borough council, which has said it will consult a wide range of organisations.

Marty House, a blue badge-holder and disabled campaigner, denied the claims that those with disabilities are not always on low incomes and queried whether scrapping the policy could land the council with high administration costs.

The 59-year-old, of Chaplins Close, Haverhill, who suffers from arthritis and back problems, added: "I see the current state of free parking for those with blue badges as being not so much a benefit as to make things more equal.

"They are often forced to make more journeys by car, because they cannot walk or find it difficult.

"So it is not just about low-income, which is also a big issue, it is also about accessibility and the practical problems this would cause.

"The council could have to spend more on enforcing it as well as make all parking areas wheelchair-accessible."

Knock him down with a feather: Dusty Miller with artist Marina Morgan and her painting. Picture: Duncan Lamont 756662

Pigeon inspires a saintly portrait

PENSIONER Dusty Miller was surprised to find himself elevated to 'sainthood', after an artist inspired by a photograph of him with a pigeon on his head painted him in the style of St Francis.

Dusty, 69, was pictured in the Weekly News last December with the bird which he had rescued and hand-reared sitting on his head. The bird – christened Squeaky by Dusty and immortalised by a tattoo on his arm – still visits his home daily for food.

Dusty paid a visit to Haverhill Arts Centre to meet artist Marina Morgan and see her portrait of him and Squeaky, which will be featured in an exhibition of her work in September.

Dusty of Rye Court, Haverhill, said: "I am very impressed – I shall have to get a halo. When I found him last October he was just a ball of fluff and only a few days old.

"When I went down to the shops, he used to come perched on my head. He has left something on my head many a time. I must have the most well washed hair in Haverhill.

"He still comes back every day and we have a cat, but it has never gone for him.

"We have rescued other birds in the past, but he has become like part of the family."

Marina, of Poplar Close, Haverhill, used an unusual Renaissance technique called egg tempera for the picture, which was part of her course work for an art degree for which she studied at Norwich University.

Marina is Russian by birth, but has lived in Haverhill for 15 years after meeting her English husband while working at Stansted airport.

She said: "When I saw his picture it really inspired me and reminded me of the story of St Francis, which I have always liked. I was really happy to meet him and show him the picture.

"All of my tutors and the others students were fascinated by the picture and really liked it."

More than 100 caught without TV licence

MORE than 100 TV license evaders were caught in Haverhill in the last six months.

A total of 110 people were prosecuted by the TV Licensing body between January and June this year.

The recently released figures are more than double the 50 caught in neighbouring Newmarket.

Pauline Gillingham, TV Licensing spokeswoman for the South East, said: "While the vast majority of people in the UK pay their licence fee, to be fair to those who pay, we have to be firm with those who try to get away without paying.

"We take TV Licence evasion very seriously and we will not hesitate to prosecute if people continue to break the law."

Almost 197,000 people were caught without a license across the UK since January but the average evasion rate continues to remain steady at five per cent.

A colour TV Licence costs £145.50 and is required by anyone watching or recording TV programmes as they are shown on TV.

More information on how and where to pay the licence fee can be found on www.tvlicensing.co.uk.

Toddlers invited to go animal crackers

YOUNGSTERS are invited to dress up as their favourite animal for this year's Big Toddle event in their local park.

The event, in association with the Weekly News, will take place at Haverhill's East Town Park on Sunday, August 7 at 10.30am, with children toddling their way around the park to raise money for Barnardos.

The charity works with disadvantaged and vulnerable children in local projects throughout the UK. This includes services for children with physical and learning disabilities, autism and behavioural problems.

The toddle is for pre-school aged children under five. Last year the Haverhill event made a bumper £914, which was rewarded by Barnardos with a special gold certificate for one of the highest amounts raised in the UK in 2010.

Each child taking part will receive a medal, certificate and sticker, plus Tesco has kindly donated a carton of drink to quench thirsts at the end of the walk.

After the Toddle, all the children will be entertained by Panther Poppets, a local toddler dance group who will be running a free taster session and then families can finish up with a picnic.

Places must be booked in advance as every child has to be pre-registered and organisers can only accept children who are booked in on the day.

To register, e-mail the child's name, address and a contact telephone number to advertising@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk or ring Louise on (01440) 703891 for more information.

Sports coaching team ready to book sessions

ADVERTISEMENT FEATURE

THE summer is a great time for getting out and about, and taking part in sports is a great way to stay healthy and meet people.

Prestige Sports Development is a local sports coaching business available for a variety of activities.

Operating in Haverhill, South East Cambridgeshire, Saffron Walden and Sudbury, the company can cater for any sport, and works across schools providing PE lessons, covering classes and organising various sports clubs.

The company was established by Matthew Crawley who has over 20 different sports coaching qualifications and has worked for Abbeycroft Leisure, the South West Suffolk School Sports Partnership, Haverhill Rovers, the Suffolk FA, Ipswich Town, the University of Hertfordshire and Cambridge United (for whom the company still recruits).

During the week the coaches provide high quality PE lessons and clubs in local schools such as Westfield, Clare and Radwinter Primary schools.

The headteacher of Radwinter says: "I would not hesitate in recommending Matt to others who are keen to offer inclusive sports sessions that are accessible to all, regardless of ability."

Aside from working in schools Prestige Sports can also offer personal training, boot camps, children's holiday activities and sports/football birthday parties. This summer the company is holding various football world cup days for children in Haverhill and Linton, see website for details.

Matt says: "Sports are a great way for kids to meet people, and build their confidence, not to mention it teaching them to develop a healthy lifestyle. With every session we try and mix hard work with fun, enjoyment and a bit of learning."

For more information or to book a session call 07966780005, email prestige.sports@gmx.com or alternatively visit www.prestigesportsdevelopment.co.uk.

Matthew Crawley of Prestige Sports Development: High quality sports sessions that "are accessible to all, regardless of ability", according to the headmaster of Radwinter, who employed the firm.

Dad gets in gear for charity quest

BY ADAM LUKE

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A FATHER is set to embark on a mammoth journey to raise money for an operation for his son – and in support of a Haverhill boy.

Andy Telford will travel 1,589 miles through 20 cities over eight days to reach his target for 5-year-old son AJ.

The 40-year-old will be driving a car emblazoned with the names of a number of children suffering from a severe form of cerebral palsy called bilateral spastic hemiplegia.

The families are raising cash for a corrective procedure, costing £40,000 per child, which can be performed in America.

One youngster highlighted by Mr Telford is 18-month-old Aiden Thompson, of Sperling Drive, Haverhill, who was diagnosed with the condition in March.

Operation AJ Telford with the branded car his father Andy is driving on the fundraising trip.

Mr Telford has spoken to Aiden's mother to offer his backing for her campaign to raise the cash for her own son.

He said: "I am doing this road trip as my son is like Aiden and I am also in the early stages of getting AJ over to St Louis in America for an operation to deal with the condition."

The operation involves severing problematic nerves which reduce movement and cause stiffness.

Mr Telford, from Colwyn Bay, north Wales, will roll into Cambridge on August 5 during Operation AJ, The Smiley Face Appeal, half-way through the trip.

Funds found for cameras relaunch

MONEY has been found to get Suffolk's speed cameras up and running again – but their future is not yet certain.

The county's speed cameras were turned off by Suffolk County Council on July 1 as a cost-cutting measure, but following a meeting between the council and Suffolk police, the fixed cameras have been reactivated.

Finance for the service has been found to turn them back on, but the future of the cameras will be up for discussion again at the meeting of the Suffolk Road Safety Partnership meeting in September.

The group will attempt to find a viable way of funding the service for the longer term. The police authority will meet towards the end of the year to decide on the long-term future of the fixed cameras.

Research into the suitability of the sites where cameras are based, issues relating to their ongoing costs and a possible move to digital technology will all be undertaken during the rest of the year, as well as an examination of collision data.

Gary Kitching, assistant chief constable at Suffolk police, said: "Road safety is our priority. Speed enforcement cameras are a key element in our approach. We have a mobile capability and will work with Suffolk County Council to maintain the static camera capability."

Joanna Spicer, chairman of the police authority, said: "We, together with the council, are committed to enhancing road safety in Suffolk and this demonstrates our partnership-approach to reducing road crash casualties."

The three mobile speed enforcement vehicles will continue to operate around the county.

Naked ambition helps charity

FOUR brave men showed off their six-packs as they bared all to promote a women's charity event.

Postman Steve Nicholson from Newmarket, gym instructor Ben Oakley, from Ashley, Bury St Edmunds care assistant Felipe Empleo and Sudbury personal fitness trainer Liam Britton, all volunteered to model for a cheeky picture to help promote the St Nicholas Hospice Care Girls Night Out moonlight walk. Their picture is set to grace billboards, after they got their kit off for a good cause, and there will also be men around on the night to act as water boys.

Steve, 33, said: "The photo shoot sounded like it would be good fun – on a dry day. In the end it was pouring with rain, but it was all for a good cause."

Men will be on hand at water stations around the ladies-only walk – on September 17, in Bury – ready and willing to refresh thirsty participants.

Jenny Baskett, Hospice Events and Challenges Fundraiser, said: "The event is great fun with a fantastic atmosphere from start to finish, so I urge any women still thinking of signing up to do so now."

The Girls Night Out will see hundreds of women walk an 11.2-mile or a new six-mile route around Bury, starting and finishing at Angel Hill. Entertainers and bands will be performing along the route.To get involved, contact Jenny Baskett on (01284) 715583, email jenny.baskett@stnh.org.uk or go to www.stnicholashospicecare.org.uk

Students show off their business brains at hotel

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

GIFTED students used their talents to create a marketing strategy at their local hotel.

The group of gifted and talented students from Castle Manor Business and Enterprise College in Haverhill took part in a day – organised by the Suffolk Chambers of Commerce in association with Days Inn – in which they had to create the campaign for a new, fictional Days Inn hotel.

In the morning, students arrived and were given a briefing by Tim Kerr, young chamber coordinator for Suffolk Chamber of Commerce. They were then put into teams and given free rein to organise their own workloads, so that they were ready to present back to Donna Revel, manager of Haverhill's Days Inn.

Donna said: "I was really impressed by the students' appearance, behaviour and innovative ideas. They worked extremely hard and seemed to really enjoy the project. As a parent, employer and Committee Member of the Haverhill Chamber of Commerce, I feel that it is vital that local businesses support such ventures."

The school was given free use of the conference facilities at Days Inn on both days and the Suffolk Chamber of Commerce paid for the cost of resources and refreshments. Matt Bryant, business and enterprise specialist status coordinator at Castle Manor said: "Gaining knowledge is important but, without the gaining the right skills and attributes, how will you successful use it?"

Days Inn staff come through with honours

DAYS Inn staff were kept on their toes with four audits in one week – but managed to get good results in them all.

The Haverhill hotel had a near perfect week when the health and safety audit and fire safety audit carried out by Common Sense Compliance both produced a score of 98 per cent, the food safety audit scored 96 per cent and the brand engagement and development (BED) Audit by Wyndham Worldwide scored 94 per cent.

General manager Donna Revell said: "It is quite unusual to have four audits in one week but I am delighted to say that we sailed through them all. We have a great team at Days Inn Haverhill who are totally committed to delivering the highest levels of service.

"Running a hotel is a complex business, as anyone who has watched The Hotel Inspector will know. There are so many different factors that have to come together to ensure a guest has a positive experience, from customer service to housekeeping to health and safety. The results of the external audits validate that we are getting it right."

The hotel was full for most of the week but still managed to play host to students from Castle Manor Business and Enterprise College and to coordinate a full wedding on the Saturday.

Donna said: "I always knew our team was fantastic but these audit scores and customer comments show we do not let our high standards slip even when we are busy."

Academy joins partnership

LEARNING centres and individual tuition opportunities will be coming to Haverhill's Samuel Ward Academy after it formed a partnership with a national education group.

TLC Education, a specialist tutoring provider, has partnered with five schools in East Anglia, including Parkside Community College and Coleridge Community College, in Cambridge, to improve standards of English and maths.

The schools entered after they invited TLC to set up learning centres onsite, which will offer individual maths and English tuition alongside GCSE preparation for pupils aged 6 to 16.

The opportunities will be open to children from the participating schools, as well as children in the age range from surrounding areas, with sessions taking place in study periods or after school.

Pupils will be able to use learning software based around the national curriculum, while teachers monitor progress and answer questions.

Simon Barnes, director of TLC, said: "Our partnerships mean we can help improve examination grades and build confidence in students of all ages and abilities."

TLC Education Group also has an independent learning centre based in Bishop's Stortford, Hertfordshire, offering tuition in the same subjects.

James set for Junction

DESPITE getting a U for his music A-level, husky popstar James Morrison has clocked up five million album sales since melting our hearts back in 2006 with his soulful ballad You Give Me Something.

That same year, aged just 21, he was asked to perform at the Royal Variety Performance in front of the Queen, before being nominated for three Brit Awards in 2007, winning the Best British Male Solo Artist category.

In 2008 he was back with another hit – the bittersweet Broken Strings, on which he collaborated with Nelly Furtado.

Tonight Morrison will be performing previous hits, as well as new tracks from his latest album, The Awakening, at The Junction in Cambridge.

Due to overwhelming demand, extra tickets have just been released.

"I love playing live," says Morrison. "It's great when the crowds are all singing your songs and they're with you 100 per cent . . . all of that is amazing.

"But I think for me, it's those little special moments that come along when you play sometimes, where the hairs on your arms go up. That's the thing I really enjoy."

■ James Morrison, The Junction, tonight. Doors at 7pm. Tickets are £20 in advance from (01223) 511511/www.junction.co.uk.

Two events for children

THERE are two great children's theatre events at Haverhill Arts Centre this week – first up is Nonsense Room Productions with two performances of Hairy Maclary tomorrow at 11am and 2pm.

Following a sell-out run at the Edinburgh Fringe Festival, Hairy Maclary and his friends are springing off the page and onto the stage.

Sealegs Puppet Theatre, who brought us The Ugly Duckling, join us again on Thursday August 4 with Little Bo Peep, a puppet show for 2- to 7-year-olds. Little Bo Peep has lost her sheep and doesn't know where to find them. Meanwhile as the Nursery Rhyme Man is baking a surprise cake for her birthday, a naughty mouse keeps stealing the ingredients. Sing along to your favourite nursery rhymes.

The centre celebrates 60s sensations The Who and The Small Faces on Saturday when Who's Who and The Small Fakers plus DJ Paul Trinder do their thing from 8pm to 1.30am.

On the cinema front, the cinema is showing Win Win (15) tomorrow at 7.45pm, while Martin Freeman stars in Swinging With The Finkels (15) on Tuesday August 2 and Thursday August 4 at 7.45pm. Pirates of the Caribbean: On Stranger Tides (2D) is showing on Friday August 5 at 10.30am and 2.30pm.

For more details, or to book, phone (01440) 714140 or go to www.haverhillartscentre.co.uk.

Ex-Doctor's remedy for ghostly chills

COLIN Baker known to millions as the sixth incarnation of the Doctor in Doctor Who, stars in Wilkie Collins's classic ghost story, The Woman In White, at the Arts Theatre, Cambridge.

Never out of print since it was first published in 1860, The Woman in White tells the gripping tale of Walter Hartwright, a handsome art teacher who is assailed by a mysterious woman on a London road at midnight where she pleads with him to save her from being taken to an asylum.

She disappears just as suddenly as she appears, but this first unsettling encounter marks the beginning of a long journey which takes Walter to the darkest continents of his heart.

Collins's gothic thriller proved a huge hit with Victorian audiences, outselling even the great Charles Dickens, and this fast-paced stage adaptation is sure to continue the story's success.

Colin Baker takes the part of the dangerously charming Count Fosco – a character named recently by author Sebastian Faulks as one of literature's greatest villains.

Baker began his career at the Cambridge Arts Theatre in Plaintiff in a Pretty Hat and has gone on to establish a prolific career in theatre and TV. Before taking on the role of the Time Lord, he was Paul Merroney, the villain the nation loved to hate in hit 70s drama The Brothers.

Baker is joined for The Woman in White by Peter Amory (Chris Tate in Emmerdale, The Tudors), Neil Stacy (star of Duty Free, Lovejoy, Heartbeat) and Karen Ford (Grange Hill, EastEnders, Peak Practice), Glyn Grain and Richard Tate.

■ The Woman in White, Cambridge Arts Theatre, until July 30, 7.45pm. Tickets are from £15. Contact (01223) 503333 / www.cambridgeartstheatre.com.

Wanted to wow crowds

POP'S freshest boyband The Wanted shot straight to Number 1 with their debut single, All Time Low, last year and have since continued to dominate the charts with their synthy-pop sound.

Representing an evolution since the days when boybands were expected to sing love songs while seated under spotlights on matching stools (ready to stand for the key change, of course), these five south-Londoners have so far given us largely up-tempo, dancy, almost R&B-style numbers, with vocals which manage to be smooth and razor sharp at the same time.

The boys were nominated for a BRIT award last year for Best British Single, and started work on their second studio album at the beginning of this year. The first single from the album, Gold Forever, was in aid of Comic Relief, and the album comes out in November.

Don't miss Nathan, Max, Siva, Jay and Tom for an evening of feel-good, dance-along entertainment.

■ The Wanted, Newmarket Nights, tomorrow. Tickets cost from £16. Contact: www.newmarketracecourses.co.uk/concerts.

The big film

CARS 2 certificate U 112m

IT had to happen – eventually. Disney Pixar, the most consistently dazzling animation studio on the Hollywood block, was always going to struggle to top the elation and misty-eyed farewells of Toy Story 3. Cars 2 falls short of that masterpiece, lacking sufficient heartfelt emotion under the bonnet to really rev our engines.

For any other studio, this high-octane spy caper would be a triumph, orchestrating death-defying action sequences that look even more startling in digital 3D.

And certainly young audiences will whoop with glee as tow truck Mater skids and screeches from one disaster to the next as the film's turbo-charged characters circumnavigate the globe in the first ever World Grand Prix.

However, compared to Disney Pixar's most recent features – Ratatouille, WALL-E, Up and Toy Story 3 – Lasseter and Brad Lewis's film lacks the polish, which perhaps we've taken for granted.

Lightning McQueen (voiced by Owen Wilson) returns to Radiator Springs as the four-time champion of the Piston Cup. Best friend Mater (Larry The Cable Guy) welcomes him with open doors, as does girlfriend Sally Carrera (Bonnie Hunt).

Italian racing car Francesco Bernoulli (John Turturro) goads Lightning into participating in a newly-announced championship organised by environmentalist Miles Axlerod (Eddie Izzard), who will use the grand prix to showcase his state-of-the-art biofuel, Allinol. But a group of rogue cars led by the diabolical Professor Zundapp (Thomas Kretschmann) plots to sabotage the races in Japan, Italy and the UK.

Secret agent Finn McMissile (Michael Caine) and rookie field spy Holley Shiftwell (Emily Mortimer) are on the case, roping in Mater, who they mistakenly believe to be an undercover American agent.

Cars 2 is a sweet and colourful yarn about being true to yourself, as seen through the headlights of Lightning, who is embarrassed by Mater's social faux pas and demands the tow truck puts himself into a different gear.

The visuals look spectacular and action sequences have been breathlessly orchestrated to take full advantage of the 3D format.

Cars 2 is accompanied by a hilarious short – Hawaiian Vacation. In this six-minute treat, Buzz, Woody and the Toy Story gang help Barbie and Ken to celebrate their first holiday together by creating tropical climes in Bonnie's bedroom. That's what friends are for.

Late summer scorchers

by Hannah Stephenson

The soft pink peonies, deep blue delphiniums and purple cranesbill geraniums may have faded from my borders – but there are some sizzling oranges and reds in their place, bursting into bloom and hailing the fact that summer isn't over.

Spikes of vibrant red Crocosmia Lucifer rub shoulders with dazzling Helenium Moerheim Beauty, whose rich orange daisy-like flowers provide a wonderful clash of colours, intermingling with chocolate-leaved heucheras and backed by the intense, deep purple flowers of Buddleia davidii Black Knight.

It's at this time of year you realise that late summer blooms can almost be more eye-catching and long-lasting than those which bloom earlier in the season and if you haven't given a thought to how your borders are going to look in August and beyond, maybe it's time to turn over a new leaf.

Thanks to the unusually warm spring, much bedding has been blooming its heart out since April or May and has just about run out of steam, so if your tired-looking petunias have gone soggy and drooped in the recent rains or other blooms are past their best, bite the bullet and replace them with some sizzling patio stalwarts which can be replanted later in the border.

Dahlias have made a comeback in recent years and there are some stunning varieties which will merge into a hot scheme. Consider the vermilion-red semi-double blooms of D. 'Bishop of Llandaff' alongside the deep yellow D. Bishop of York, wonderfully offset by dark foliage in the border. Types like the single Mount Noddy, with its velvety red flowers, are best planted en masse.

In exotic schemes I love red hot pokers (Kniphofia) which provide colour and structure with their tall, striking stems and red and yellow rocket-shaped flowers. A good option is 'Ice Queen' if you fancy the calmer hue of creamy yellow flowers but want a plant which grows to around 1.2m (4ft) tall. For smaller, daintier varieties which could be placed nearer the front of the border, Toffee Nosed or Little Maid are better choices.

Tubs and troughs of vivid, vibrant nasturtiums can also provide late summer interest, in shades of reds, oranges and yellows, while black-eyed Susan, or thunbergia, will twine itself up trellis or tumble over hanging baskets in a sunny, sheltered spot until October.

Other stunning additions to the border which do well in lightly shaded areas are hemerocallis (day lily), astilbe and astrantia.

If you're not into brash and bold, you can opt for the softer hues of summer phlox in a variety of colours, from white to deep pink, some of which have variegated leaves.

The globe thistle (Echinops bannaticus) produces eye-catching soft blue spiny globes on top of silvery stems, which grow to around 1.2m (4ft) high, while Aster x frikartii Monch bears lavender-blue flowers on thick stems through to October.

Most of these plants don't need staking or dividing often. As well as producing late colour, they also provide leaf interest throughout the year.

For immediate impact, plant them closely in groups. Salvias including S. uliginosa (blue) and S. fulgens (red) do well planted in groups, as do Chinese aster, coleus, zinnia, penstemon and rudbeckia.

Other good bets include the purple coneflower Echinacea purpurea, which has pretty basal foliage and bears big, purple-pink daisy-like flowers. Its petals surround a large central cone and it grows up to 1m (3ft) or more when fed. Good varieties include 'Robert Bloom' or 'Magnus'.

To complement the coneflowers in your border, try planting Phygelius Aequalis Yellow Trumpet in front of them. These plants, originally from South Africa, have a constant run of flower stems which hold tubular creamy yellow flowers and reach around 90cm (3ft) in height. They will need winter protection in cold areas.

Of course, no late summer border would be complete without the sedum, or ice plant, so called because if you touch the succulent leaves on a warm day they will be cold. A good bet is S. Autumn Joy, which provides flat heads of flowers in shades ranging from salmon pink to deep red from August to November. Plant wisely and your sizzling summer may last much longer than you think.

Third generation Yaris unveiled

JAPANESE car-maker Toyota has unveiled its new Yaris at the firm's Valenciennes facility near Lille, France.

The third generation car will hit the showrooms in September, and boasts a number of improvements over its predecessor.

With the B-sector accounting for approximately 40 per cent of sales in the European market, Toyota's continued support of the Yaris brand is important to the firm's bottom line.

As such, the company expects to sell 200,000 units in 2012, further underlining the car's continued popularity despite increased competition from both European and Far Eastern manufacturers.

Styled to complement recent cars in Toyota's range such as the Auris and Verso S, this latest Yaris is a little longer than before – 100mm, bringing its total length to 3.88m – yet is no wider. Even its height has been reduced slightly to lower its centre of gravity.

The all-new Toyota Yaris: In the showrooms this September.

The main beneficiary of the car's extra length will be its occupants, as the car's wheelbase has been extended by 50mm. Luggage space has also grown: 347 litres and 768 litres with the car's rear seats up and folded respectively.

Inside, overall cabin quality and ambience has been ramped up, with plenty of dark plastics and plush upholstery evident.

Key to the appeal of the Yaris is its engine line-up. From launch the car will come with 1.0 and 1.33-litre petrol engines producing 68 and 98bhp respectively.

There's also a 1.4-litre, 89bhp diesel. With manual transmissions, CO2 is 111, 123 and 104g/km respectively.

Toyota also announced fuel economy improvements for its 1.0-litre petrol unit resulting in 58.9mpg on the combined cycle. Diesel economy is up by 7 per cent to 72.4mpg.

Once on sale, the next big announcement regarding the Yaris will be the arrival of the hybrid variant, due in 2012. Boasting similar technology to the Auris and Prius, emissions and economy figures will be the same or better than its existing petrol-electric models.

Public Notices

Essex County Council

(Manuden Road, Clavering/Berden) (Temporary Prohibition of Traffic) Order 2011

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council intends, not less than seven days from the date of this notice, to make the above Order under Section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the order: To temporarily close Manuden Road, Clavering/ Berden, in the District of Uttlesford, from a point approximately 10 metres north of Poor Bridge Road, generally south, for a distance of approximately 450 metres.

The closure is scheduled to commence for 2 days during the period 8 August 2011 to 16 September 2011 between the hours of 09:30 and 15:30, weather permitting, or where appropriate signs are showing, and is required for the safety of the public and workforce while carriageway resurfacing works are undertaken.

Access for emergency vehicles and pedestrians will be maintained at all times during the closure.

The alternative route will be via Stortford Road, B1038 to Newport, B1383 to Stansted Mountfitchet, Bentfield Road, Bentfield End Causeway, Bentfield Bury Road, Carters Hill, The Street and vice versa.

The Order will come into effect on 8 August 2011 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

Dated: 28 July 2011.

Yim Kong, Assistant Director for Highways, County Hall, Chelmsford.

Bareham at the double

EAMONN Bareham did the double in the Seniors' Club Championship, winning the Chris Briggs Trophy (scratch) and Paul Wallace Trophy (handicap).

After a brilliant round he finished with a gross 71 – six shots clear of his nearest rival.

It gave Bareham, runner-up in the scratch competition last year and seniors champion in 2009, a nett score of 65 and he was three shots clear of the rest of the field for the handicap competition.

Dennis White won the Veterans Cup with 87-19-68.

■ Andy Fish and Paul Houchen are through to the East Region final of the Golf Frontiers International Pairs Matchplay tournament.

They beat James and Jim Temperley from the Caddington club near Luton in a tight encounter.

They went one-up on the fourth with a birdie but did not extend their lead until the 18th to win 2-up.

The Haverhill pair now go on to the DeVere Wokefield Park, Berkshire on September 12 with the carrot a place in the national final at Wychwood Park in Cheshire later that month.

■ Haverhill had to contend with some of the worst conditions in which they have played in the afternoon session of their second round tie in the Stenson at Felixstowe.

They battled against a strong wind to remain in contention at lunch, but the Felixstowe capitalised on home advantage to win 7½ - 4½ .

Details - Morning (Haverhill names first): Dave Quinney and Jack Warwick won 3&2 Billy McLeod and Jimmy Price, Chris Vince and Lewis Whiting lost 7&5 Matt Stockdale and Mark Fosker, Andy Fish and Eamonn Bareham lost 3&2 Mel Pipe and Toby Spink, Craig Sisson and Andy Bareham won 2& 1 Paul Waring & Nigel Fosker.

Afternoon singles: Quinney lost 2&1 Macleod, Vince won 2&1 Stockdale, Whiting lost 6&5 Fosker, Fish won 3&1 Price, Bareham all square Waring, Warwick lost 5&4 Spink, Sisson lost 4&3 Pipe, Whiting lost 6 &5 Fosker.

■ Carol Gardner and Jane Harrington combined perfectly to win the 'The Shrubberies', the second Major in the ladies' calendar.

They scored an outstanding 45 points in the drawn pairs better ball stableford, finishing four points clear of runners-up Chris Grainger and Marian Mercer, who pipped Ann Thompson and Linda Macfarlane on countback after both scored 41 points.

■ Brian Crosbee and his guest, Mary Martin, edged to victory in a thrilling three-way battle in the Haverhill club's mixed invitation, a pairs, better ball, stableford competition.

They took top spot on countback from club president Chris Briggs and Celia Pearson, who edged out Doreen Crosbee and Peter Martin after the three pairs all finished with 39 points.

Mary Martin won the nearest-the-pin prize on the eighth.

■ Around 100 members from all sections of the club took part in the annual Captain's Day stableford event.

Details - Men's low division: 1 Michael Perrett 39pts, 2 Charlie Hudson 38pts on countback from Mark Barrett 38pts. Men's high division: 1 Nigel Taylor 39pts, 2 Mick Harrington 38, 3 Derek Olive 37. Ladies: 1: Doreen Darbey 32pts, 2 Jane Herrington 30, 3 Marian Mercer 29.

A raffle and auction raised funds for captain Keith Brown's charity.

■ Chris Mellings has had his handicap trimmed by a shot to 19 after he won the men's midweek medal with a nett 65.

Details - Division One: 1 Robert Rudge 76-10-66, 2 Michael Perrett 77-10-67, 3 Lewis Whiting 75-8-67. Division Two: 1 Chris Mellings 85-20-65, 2 Trevor Broomfield 82-16-66, 3 Aaron Tokley 84-16-68. Division Three: 1 Peter Deane 95-24-71, 2 Barry Shuter 95-22-73, 3 Peter Amies 96-23-73.

The following day Robert Rudge surpassed his nett 66 in the men's medal which earned top spot in Division One, when he took top spot in the men's stableford with 46 points. As a result, his handicap dropped three shots in two days to seven.

Details - Division One: 1 Robert Rudge 46pts, 2 Paul Bartlett 38, 3 Neil Farlie 37. Division Two: 1 Aaron Tokley 40pts, 2 Keith Miller 39, 3 Lyndon Brown 37. Division Three: 1 Brian Johnson 32 pts, 2 Gary Currel 31, 3 Ian Dobbie 28.

■ The top three places in the ladies' July stableford were decided on countback, ladies' captain Marian Mercer finally coming out on top.

Details - 1 Marian Mercer 33pts on countback from 2 Karen Wilby and 3 Ann Thompson.

■ Ellis Brown, Louis Martin and Ben Bradnam have had their handicaps cut after they figured prominently in the junior sections Waddup Windows medal and stableford event.

Details - Medal: 1 Ellis Brown 81-13-68, 2e Daniel Bentley 90-21-69, 3 Ollie Fish 98-27-72 on countback. Stableford: 1 Louis Martin 43pts, 2 Ben Bradnam 42, 3 Ollie Stevenson 34pts on countback.

■ Haverhill seniors won two and lost in their four matches. They lost 6-2 at home to Girton and 6½-1½ at The Essex, but beat Newton Green 6-2 and Royston 4½ - 3½.

Cup that: Seniors' captain Mick Couzins with Dennis White (left) and and Eamonn Bareham

On their way: Paul Houchen and Andy Fish

In the mix: Brian Crosbee and Mary Martin flank ladies' captain Marian Mercer and vice-president David Chapman

» Cricket: Adams Harrison Midweek League

Happy Hundon set to take big step up

HUNDON have been in celebratory mood after reaching the Adams Harrison Midweek League Cup final and securing promotion to Division One.

They amassed 170 for 9 against Halstead, who were condemned to Division 3A after their innings closed at 106 for 8.

The result means Horseheath have to be satisfied with runners-up spot. They did their best to maintain the pressure at the top by winning at Cherry Tree with a sound all-round display,

Dan Goldsmith (34) was the mainstay of Horseheath's 97 for 4 with Martin Giles taking 4 for 28 and Andy Edwards making three stumpings and a catch in Cherry Tree's 93 for 7 (David Hodge 35).

Long Melford had a satisfactory conclusion to the season, totalling 177 for 9 to easily see off Helions Bumpstead. Gareth Boon (61) and Steve Hale (44) provided the bulk of their runs, but Ed Pickahm (4 for 15) and Dave Nixon (3 for 12) sliced through the Helions batting to leave them on 83 for 9.

Sawston have one hand on the Division One title after a crushing win in the top-of-the-table match at Abington. Vaughn Blanchard (46 not out), Jack Hayden (36) and Simon Potger (30) helped the champions-elect total 183 for 7 against Martin Little (3 for 48), while Keith Vincent's 30 was the top score in Abington's 86 for 9.

Haverhill picked up a much-needed win, the AH Cup winners totalling 91 for 9 and restricting Fulbourn to 70 for 9, a result which nudges the Cambridge side closer to relegation.

A strong Saffron Walden side walloped 174 for 6 against Weston Colville, Joe Holland racking up 69 and Matt Stewart 28 in their 174 for 6. In response, Weston Colville only got to 64 with Stephen Larssen snapping up 4 for 13.

The Moulton-Day family were again instrumental in Gestingthorpe's Division 3A win at Highpoint. Kenny slammed 95 and Chris 41 as the visitors totalled 166 for 1 with Highpoint managing 84 for 7 in reply.

Wratting Lions secured second place in the division after edging past Hundon II, who were undone by Kerry Ewens (3 for 12) and Colin Bradnam (3 for 17).

They reached 88 for 8 with Russell Davis scoring 32 of Lions' 94 for 7.

The top-of-the-table clash in Division 3B ended with Balsham closing the gap on Abington II.

Jack Squires (39) and Steve Saunders (32) provided the foundations for their 105 for 7 with Abington managing 97 as Luke Tozer got to work with 4 for 23.

Closest game of the night was at Linton, where Mill Green squeezed home off the penultimate ball.

The home side totalled 136 for 7 (Stuart Tinsley 30) but then saw Ed Argent guide the visitors home with 65 of their 138 for 6 against Alex Flynn, who took three wickets.

Callum sparks Rovers' return

Halstead Town 1 Haverhill Rovers 3

SUBSTITUTE Callum Harrison sparked a fine second-half comeback to help Haverhill Rovers run out comfortable winners against their neighbours in their pre-season game.

After an even first 20 minutes, Rovers' Marcus Hunt tripped striker John Root in the area, and James Raby converted past Alex Archer.

With Rovers appearing to lack a cutting edge up front, they were reduced to long-distance strikes from Matt Clarke and a free kick from Jack Wilkinson.

But the arrival of Harrison breathed life into them, and on 55 minutes he levelled with a turn and sharp finish past Matt Blackmore.

He should have done better 12 minutes later, hitting the post after intercepting Blackmore's pass, but Rovers finally got their noses in front five minutes from time when Hunt headed in Jamie Challis' free kick.

A minute later substitutes Harry Halls and Louis Harper combined on the edge of the area to set up Ben Bradley for the final goal.

■ Rovers' pre-season countdown was due to continue on Tuesday at Leiston, but the match was cancelled. They have a home clash against Histon tonight (Thursday) and are due to play Ware at the New Croft on Tuesday.

Phillips turns screw but batsmen crash

HAVERHILL were left cursing their luck as they lost by 16 runs in a crucial Marshall Hatchick Two Counties Championship, Division One battle against Coggeshall.

With Chris Silverwood, Adam Dellar, Simon and Luke Youngs unavailable, Haverhill brought three under-16s into the side under stand-in skipper Joe Woodley.

Things started off well, though, with Woodley winning the toss and putting the visitors in first on a damp, green Manor pitch.

Swinging the ball appreciably, Rajan Singh (16-5-28-4) blew away three of the top four in no time at all, thanks in no small part to some exceptional catches behind from Sam Powell and Tom Saville.

And when the miserly Dan Poole (11-4-23-0) gave way, 16-year-old spinner Anthony Phillips wreaked havoc with four wickets as Coggeshall limped to 142 for 9.

Haverhill made a solid start, with Bill Moran and 16-year-old Dan Pass putting on 47 in 12 overs. But once they went, Haverhill wobbled and, despite Poole's 30, they struggled to cope with Blackwell, who finished with 6 for 30.

■ Sam Hartshorn and Phil Jones kept Haverhill II's promotion march on track when they polished off Braintree II far more easily than expected in Division Six.

Responding to the home side's 177 for 6 (Steve Fox 3 for 55), the openers took the home attack apart, racing to 64 for 0 off just 12 overs.

The score was on 153 before they were parted, Hartshorn first to go for 78, which included 12 fours and a six. The next over went for 17 runs as Jones (10 fours and two sixes) took Haverhill to the brink of an eight-wicket victory before falling for 66.

■ Steve Saville earned a place in Haverhill's record books when he blew away Woolpit in the Sunday second team's Hunts County Bats, Division Four clash.

The second-team's skipper finished with a staggering 7 for 14 off 10 overs – four were maidens – as Woolpit limped to 100 all out.

Haverhill's openers showed there were no demons in the pitch, putting on 95 before Ben Wilkins was out for 35. Liam Botten saw them to an eight-wicket win with an unbeaten 49.

■ Hartshorn rode his luck to post 46 but Haverhill's Sunday first team fell to deeat against Bury St Edmunds Academy in the Hunts County Bats Sunday League. Chasing 222 for 7 (Pass 3 for 36, Woodley 3 for 47), Hartshorn and Liam Savage (37) gave Haverhill a solid start and they were up with the run-rate at the drinks break.

However, they lost wickets as they tried to accelerate and fell 44 short on 178.

Fresh Hope for club's revival

HAVERHILL are gearing up for the start of the new season in the Suffolk Merit League, Division One.

The 2010-11 campaign proved a difficult and disappointing one for the club as they were forced to withdraw from Greene King IPA Eastern Counties Division One.

The inability to guarantee that they would be able to fulfil every fixture forced their hand, but they have now regrouped and are raring to go again.

Chairman of playing, Tony Hope, has put together a team to take the club forward with Peter Lester, Allan Burnett and Ben Jones in charge of the seconds

And Jake Plumridge, Adrian Cooper and Hope are overseeing coaching.

Gavin Hope will be the first-team captain, with Paul Bergin, Martin Ransome and Carl Anderson installed as club captains to assist in all departments, while Chris Flannery is fixtures secretary and Joe Brown the senior subscriptions secretary.

"These changes have seen upwards of 25 players attending pre-season sessions and, if all the players were there at the same time, some 40 players have been available," said Hope.

"This all bodes well for the coming season. The main purpose of the coming season is to see a second XV out playing and the first XV competing and seeing their application back into Eastern Counties Two for season 2012-13.

"We know that there are a lot of players in the Haverhill area that are travelling to Cambridge, Cantabs, Sawston, Saffron Walden, etc.

"But if they fancy a change we would gladly welcome them with open arms. We are a friendly club and the more experienced players we get this will help broaden our playing strengths."

A treat for Spencer

A LATE carp blitz helped Dave Spencer to victory in the Haverhill club's match on Crabtree Lake at Lawn Farm fishery, Elsworth.

Jason Jeggo set the early pace with a catch taken on method feeder and sweetcorn, but "doggy treats" with a cage feeder accounted for 40lb of carp in an hour which, when combined with the chub he had netted earlier, took Spencer to 72lb. Jeggo was next best with 60lb followed by Dave Pennycook, who used pellet on the pole to net 47lb.

■ The funeral service for popular local matchman Dave Porter takes place at Harlow crematorium tomorrow (Friday).

Porter used to run a tackle shop in Haverhill and regularly used to fish in Haverhill, Saffron Walden and Bishop's Stortford club matches.
